

Global 1968
Thursday May 24th
1968 to 2018: Remembering and Imagining Revolutionary Struggle with Angela Davis

Moderated by Professor Michele Elam with Gabriella I. Johnson ('17)

5.30pm in Cubberley Auditorium, Stanford University

<https://global68.squarespace.com>

Join us for an evening of conversation with scholar-activist Angela Davis. To commemorate the 50th anniversary of Global 1968, this intergenerational interview is designed to help us reflect on historical and contemporary activism and community organizing. Angela Davis will be sharing her own experiences fighting for social justice and discussing how we all can contribute to this work in our present historical moment. Angela Davis will answer questions from Stanford English Professor Michele Elam, Stanford alumna Gabriella I. Johnson ('17), and the wider Stanford community. Please submit questions via the Eventbrite form below. We will frame our discussion around your questions and interests! Light refreshments will be served in the Cubberley lobby from 7.00pm.

Tickets will be released at 8pm on Thursday 3rd May. Sign up here.

An exhibition of sources from 1968 – including letters written to Angela Davis from France will take place in the Barchas Room in Green (off Special Collections) on May 24 from 1 to 3 p.m.

Friday May 25th
Global 1968 in 2018

9.15 - 6.30 in the Terrace Room in Margaret Jacks Hall (Building 460), Stanford University

The 50th anniversary of May 1968 rings particularly sharply in the US and Europe this year, as contemporary political and social actors consider ways to shake up political institutions or ideologies. This international and interdisciplinary conference will bring scholars from Stanford and other US and European universities for the first time to discuss the intellectual, political, social, sexual, and artistic history of these seismic events. All attendees are invited to participate in the discussion.

09.15-09.45 Breakfast

09.45-10.00 Introduction

10.00-12.00 Decolonizing 1968, featuring: Priya Satia (Stanford), Joseph Slaughter (Columbia), Samantha Christiansen (UCCS), Frances Negrón-Muntaner (Columbia) and Alma Heckman (UCSC).

12.00-1.30 Lunch

1.30-3.30 Reading and Seeing 1968, featuring: Adrian Daub (Stanford), Beth Holt (Bard), Damon Young (Berkeley), Chandan Reddy (Univ. of Washington), Fred Turner (Stanford).

3.30-4.00 Coffee

4.00-6.00 On the Limits of our Imagination, featuring: Haiyan Lee (Stanford), Ula Taylor (Berkeley), Camille Robcis (Cornell/Columbia), Quinn Slobodian (Wesleyan), Samuel Daly (Duke).

Concluding comments: Colleen Lye (Berkeley)

Please find more information here: <https://global68.squarespace.com>.

Kindly sponsored by: DLCL, The Provost and Vice Provost, The Dean's Office, Department of History, the Clayman Institute, the Abbasi Program in Islamic Studies, France–Stanford Interdisciplinary Center, the Department of Communications, the Europe Centre, Global Studies, SLE, German Studies, FGSS, El Centro Chicano y Latino, AAS, Department of Philosophy, McCoy Family Center for Ethics & Society and Black Community Services Center.